

Draft

1. The author is proud in his daughter
2. The sweet old memory of the author and the daughter
3. The daughter is the model of her sister and their bond should always keep
4. The importance of college and brief advice
5. Suggestion1: be flexible and learn critical thinking
6. Suggestion2: learn what attracts you
7. Suggestion3: don't take your grades too serious and don't be stressful
8. Suggestion4: make friends who treat you sincerely and can make you happy
9. Suggestion5: take serious consideration on your future life
10. The author's wife's care of her daughter
- 11-15. The important meaning of college
16. Reminding his daughter to cherish her college life
17. The author's best wishes to her daughter

Summary

In the passage, the author first shows his pride in his daughter, then he recalls sweet old memory between the author and his daughter. In the following paragraph the author shows that his daughter is the model of her younger sister and their bond should always keep. What coming next is the importance of college some brief advice including being flexible and learning critical thinking, to learn what attract you, don't take your grades too serious and don't be stressful, to make friends who treat you sincerely, and taking serious consideration on your future life. Ultimately, the author expresses his wife's care of her daughter, and repeat the important meaning of college. Finally, he reminds his daughter to cherish her college life and shows his best wishes to her daughter.

(130 words)